Keep the Sabbath Wholly

This semester we have been focusing on “wholeness” of our minds, bodies, and spirits by using the image above for meditation. Last month, we reflected upon the different ways our relationship with our bodies is challenged and how we can incorporate God into the healing. This month, we are focusing on having a “wholly” spirit.

In the painting above, a delicate and intimate interaction is taking place— that between Adam and God. Look at their gazes. Look at their hands. Look at how close the two are.

In the understanding of the Church, the spirit is that which makes us different from the rest of creation, such as plants and animals. Because we have a spirit, we can be in relationship with God. Let me repeat: We can be in relationship with God! Such a casual sentence, but an amazing truth!

Consider your relationship with God, or in other terms, the health of your spirit. Would you describe yourself as close to God, as Adam is in the painting? Or do you perhaps feel far away?

King David, to whom the Psalms are attributed, writes about the closeness of God’s Spirit. Even though King David committed egregious sins, God was never far from him. I share King David’s psalm below as an encouragement to those of us who feel our spirits are far from God. Remember He loves you.

“Where shall I go from your Spirit? Or where shall I flee from your presence? If I ascend to heaven, you are there! If I make my bed in Sheol, you are there! If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, even there your hand shall lead me, and your right hand shall hold me.” Psalm 139:7-10
